

Charles DuPre DeAntonio

Artist Statement

Whatever I do, I strive not only to make a beautiful picture but also to be responsive to my patrons. It is in meeting both the astetic demands of the painting and the demands of those who will live with the painting that I believe art has reached its greatest heights in the past.

Artist Bio

I received his artistic training at the College of Charleston and the Savannah College of Art and Design. Follow an early focus on abstract painting, in 2000 I began painting portraits and narrative works shortly thereafter. I live in Charleston, SC with my wife and two children find much inspiration in the beauty and rich history of my home town. Examples of my paintings can be seen on public display in Charleston at St. Phillip's Church and the Old Exchange Building.
